ALL MAJOR	3rd semester students	CORE	새마을정책액션플랜	0001	SAEMAUL POLICY ACTION PLAN	2	THU 13:30 - 16:20 FRI 09:00 - 11:50	602	MOON, YONG SUN LEE, SANG HO	13		This course is designed to provide a basic understanding of the action plan of SAEMAUL policies and to enable students to develop practical skills to be used in the community, based on the establishment and implementation of SAEMAUL policies. Students are to be empowered as SAEMAUL leaders by applying the SAEMAUL policy action plan into their communities. In addition, the SAEMAUL policy action plan is developed to be suitable to different countries and communities based on theoretical studies and SAEMAUL development.
SAEMAUL AND INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT MAJOR	2nd Semester students	MAJOR	지도자론	0003	LEADERSHIP	3	TUE 09:00 - 11:50 WED 13:30 - 15:50	402	KIM, JUNG SU	29		The aim of this course is to study leadership theories and develop leadership qualities, which are necessary to examine, analyse, and resolve community problems and to encourage potentials of community residents and their participation. Therefore, in this course, leaderships of world leaders are studied; application of them to different community environment is discussed; and alternatives to manage and resolve conflicts in community, and to tackle problems in community are presented. In this process, characteristics of leaders are advanced to present how the community should be developed.
	2nd Semester students	MAJOR	새마을운동실천기법	0002	SAEMAUL UNDONG SKILLS AND TECHNIQUES	3	MON 13:30 - 16:20 WED 09:00 - 11:50	307	LEE, MISOOK	29		This is to do research on practices of SAEMAUL UNDONG and develop practical skills to be used in the community, based on SAEMAUL UNDONG theories and methods. Students are to be empowered as SAEMAUL leaders by applying SAEMAUL UNDONG skills into the community and studying various roles of experts in practice. In addition, SAEMAUL UNDONG practice model is developed suitable to different countries and communities based on theoretical studies and development SAEMAUL UNDONG skills and techniques.
PUBLIC POLICY AND LEADERSHIP MAJOR	2nd Semester students	MAJOR	정책과정론	0005	AGENDA-SETTING AND POLICY PROCESS	3	MON 09:00 - 11:50 TUE 13:30 - 16:20	502	LEE, SEJIN	27	With Environment	This course examines public policy process, to study why and how policy is developed, applied, evaluated, and generally conducted as it is and how policies develop over time. In doing so, this course also deals with agenda-setting, particularly with the media and international organizations' influence in ODA policy development.
	2nd Semester students	MAJOR	리더십사례연구	0004	LEADERSHIP CASE STUDY	3	WED 13:30 - 16:20 THU 13:30 - 16:20	502	PARK, SANG CHEOL LEE, YU SIN	18		This course employs the methodology of case study to study various cases of leadership over the modernization of Korea period as well as other international leadership success cases.
FOREST RESOURCES AND ECOLOGICAL RESTORATION MAJOR	2nd & 3rd Semester students	MAJOR	사방및복원생태학	0006	EROSION CONTROL AND RESTORATION ECOLOGY	3	TUE 13:30 - 16:20 WED 09:00 - 11:50	602	LEE, HAKJOON	9		This course is designed to provide the student with knowledge and fundamental skills necessary for integrating the principles of erosion control techniques and watershed management such as stream restoration, soil erosion and sediment control plans. These skills cover both theoretical and practical applications, including erosion assessment and modeling. The primary purpose of erosion control is to reduce the erosive effects of surface water runoff on exposed soil. Reducing the source of the surface water runoff can provide a significant improvement to erosion problems. The student will develop a general understanding of erosion control techniques including mulching, matting, covering with plastic sheeting, silt fences, settling ponds and protective berms. The followings are topics to be covered during the course: erosion plots using natural and artificial rains, mechanics of erosion by the water, rainfall study, modeling, empirical and physical based model, and application to different spatial and temporal scales. This course will also enable students to understand the delineation of watersheds and rainfall-runoff characteristics and design stream restoration and bioengineering projects using stream geomorphology and open channel flow techniques. This course is designed for giving an overview of the interdisciplinary topic of ecological restoration, focusing ecological theories, ecosystem functions and structures.
	2nd & 3rd Semester students	MAJOR	환경정책세미나	0007	SEMINAR IN ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY	3	MON 13:30 - 16:20 TUE 09:00 - 11:50	602	LEE, YOCHAN SEO, YONG WON	18	With Environment	This course discusses economic, social, and scientific factors and necessary conditions of policies which must be considered when establishing the urban and environmental policy. And in relation to these discussion, this course examines and evaluates major urban and environmental policies at present. This will help students to gain comprehensive understanding and analytical technique about the current policies of the fields.
